

1. The first group of respondents (10%) was asked to provide information on their demographic characteristics, including age, gender, education, and occupation. This group was also asked to provide information on their knowledge of the company's policies and procedures, and their perception of the company's culture. The second group of respondents (20%) was asked to provide information on their perception of the company's policies and procedures, and their perception of the company's culture. The third group of respondents (30%) was asked to provide information on their perception of the company's policies and procedures, and their perception of the company's culture. The fourth group of respondents (40%) was asked to provide information on their perception of the company's policies and procedures, and their perception of the company's culture. The fifth group of respondents (10%) was asked to provide information on their perception of the company's policies and procedures, and their perception of the company's culture.

Jonathan S. Crepeau

1746

[illegible]

INTERFERENCE SEARCHED
Class	Subclass	Date	Examiner

[illegible]